Dear Microsoft Settlement:

First the Clinton Justice Department and now President Bush's legal beagles are trying to damage the one company that is directly responsible for this nation's economic boom in the 90's and our world leadership in technology.

Fine them if they broke the law, but get on with it. No company should endure the hoops that Justice Department forced on Microsoft.

I thought this Administration supported entrepreneurship, no matter how tough one of the competitors might be.

Sincerely,

Alex Ray
